DODGE CITY, KANSAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 26, 1896.

TWENTIETH YEAR, VOL. XIX, NO. 24.

THE EDITOR'S TABLE.

—MIKE SUTTON is quoted as saying "hell can't carry Ford county against Ingalls." In this case bell's other name must be Burton.—Hutchinson News.

—In Finney county there is some talk of changing the name of the county to "Bob Hopkins county." Well, Bob would wear the honors gracefully.

—WILD geese and ducks have been quite plentiful for the past two weeks and some of the sportsmen have taken advantage of the flight to get fresh meat.—Garden City Herald.

—It is said that this year is the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Democratic party. It can be written thus: Founded, 1796; founded, 1896.

—Hutchinson News.

—At Cimarron the school was dismissed, on the 18th, in order to give the pupils a chance to hear J. R. Burton speak. The Jacksonian says the Republicans of Gray county are for Burton for U. S. Senator.

—Mrs. C. A. CURTIS is renominated as a candidate for reelection as Mayor of Cimarron; the platform is wise and economical administration and a scaling down of the city's indebtedness. Some of the old "county seat expenses" will be repudiated.

—Two new families moved in from Missouri this week and went out to the northwest part of the country where they have purchased land. The men are all good Republicans and that is what this country wants to make it prosperous.—Garden City Herald.

—THERE will be fusion in Kansas this fall between the Democrats and Pops. The Pops want the legislature and they are willing to give the Democrats the rest. Whether the agreement can be carried out amicably and satisfactorily is a question very much in doubt.

—A DODGE CITY man has a belief that he can settle the financial question, and his friends are trying to get him into an insane asylum, as there are no vacancies in the United States senate at present.—Cimarron Jacksonian.

—Lots of people all over the country who imagine they understand the financial question.

—JUDGE A. J. ABBOTT, of Trinidad, Colo., was in the city Monday, and while here was on the witness stand in Judge Hutchinson's court. The Judge was en route for Alva, Texas, and will shortly remove his family from there to Trinidad. Clarence is already at the latter place and is engaged with his father in the law business.—Garden City Imprint.

—People with the "Texas fever" take warning.

—EVANGELIST MARTIN is holding a revival meeting in Larned. He is having up-hill work to begin with, but he expects to pull through all right. It is getting the start in a town where the religion has died out; but if there ever was any religion in Larned, Martin is the man to wake it up. He has already got the people "mad," that is the first step in "bringing them to"—a kind of resuscitation, as it were. Private advices indicate that Brother Martin has got the people to "talking," and success is assured. He has "broken the ice" and limbered the stiff-backed Christians of the town.

—J. Ralph Burton has been "doing" quite a number of towns in Western Kansas during the two weeks past. Ralph has been giving the boys a speech on "Talkers and talking." Of course this is the platform of Mr. Burton's talk, but the "talkers" on the side may smack a little of politics. Why not? There is another gentleman by the name of Ingalls who has been "talking" to the people "through his hat" ever since Old Whiskers took John J's seat in the Senate. Now, Ralph has as much right to do a little talking as John Jeems, and to keep up the "shadow ere the substance fades." Both gentlemen are entertaining speakers, and the people like to hear them.

—THE Pop press do not take kindly to the "scrip" which is issued by Briedenthal to defray the expenses of the Pop campaign. Pop editors are to take this scrip in payment of subscriptions to their papers and for campaign literature. It is to be taken at full face value and it is to be redeemed at half price. This is proof positive that the Pops do not believe in "sound money." This also shows that they favor an inflated and depreciated "currency." But they claim to be great reformers, and yet Christ said, in sending out the seventy disciples: "Go your way: behold I send you forth as lambs among wolves. Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes, and salute no man by the way." The Pop who has come nearest to fulfilling Christ's injunction is Jerry Simpson. He wears no socks.

Medals of Honor.

A medal awarded by the American Congress for distinguished service on the battlefield, is made from the metal of captured cannon. In 1863 Congress made appropriation of $20,000 for coining medals, to be distributed among officers and men who displayed marked gallantry on the field of battle. The distribution of these medals has been guarded with zealous care, and made only after the most careful examination. To gain one of these medals it was necessary to have won distinguished consideration for some act of heroism. No favoritism from superior officers could win such a medal. The records of the war must show the bravery of the man before the award was made. And of the more than 2,000,000 soldiers of the war, only a few hundred ever secured one of these medals. This medal of honor which few even of American soldiers have won, and which all who do possess it hold as dear as the German soldiers hold their iron cross.

THESE are Democratic times. Are they hard times? Ask the laboring man whose wages have been reduced? Ask the farmer who voted the Democratic ticket because he was promised there should be dollar wheat. Ask the banker who pays out two dollars for every one coming into the bank. Ask the railroad managers whose roads have gone into the hands of receivers. Ask the business man whose property sold by the sheriff. But these are Democratic times. Do not forget that when you go to vote. If you want these Democratic times to be continued keep right on voting the Democratic ticket. If you want a change, and a return of Republican good times, when business was booming, and every man willing to work could find work to do at American wages, you must vote the Republican ticket.

JUDGE MARTIN's mortgage redemption decision has almost put a stop to the foreclosure business. Under the old law, there were from ten to twenty sheriff's sales each week, but now it will hardly average one per week. The mortgage companies are waiting for the Supreme court of the United States to pass upon the Kansas law. The dispatch from Washington this week that the Supreme court had refused to delay the mortgage redemption case was pleasant news to the loan companies of this city. It is believed that a decision will be given about June 1, and the lawyers of Topeka are almost unanimously of the opinion that Judge Martin of the Kansas Supreme court will be overruled.—Mail and Breese.

An Interesting Letter From "B." STERLING TP., HODGEMAN CO., KAS., March 20, 1896.

TO EDITOR GLOBE-REPUBLICAN: The poet sings "Winter lingering chills the lap of May." This we naturally expect; but what the plague is it chills the lap of March twice across her face and halfway down her back? Not winter, surely, at least not last winter, for December, January and February couldn't have chilled the lap of a "yaller dog." The ice crop being ruined by the heat, the ice harvester hangs up his icicle and beguiles the weary hours plowing and putting wheat in the ground. The Kansas stayer crushed to earth will rise again, and keep a 'risin'.

Some pieces of wheat look quite promising, but generally it appears to be on the side of the populists, so far.

Barley sown a week ago is sprouting nicely although the ground seems quite dry. Same with oats.

Tree planting is just beginning this season. M. Regnier, J. W. Richie, Mr. Buhman and others will plant a thousand each. Commissioner Bartlett will have a month or two of active exercise in supplying applicants if the country round about does as well as Sterling township. That Forestry station will some day be appreciated at its full value. So will the present commissioner.

Strong effort is being made to secure the location of one of the State Experiment Wells in this township. There is no place in the whole county where such a well would so fully serve its purpose. This portion of Hodgeman county is typical of west Kansas. An elevated plateau where the water is from seventy-five to one hundred and fifty feet below the surface—that is, "first water." On all these high uplands contemplative settlers and irrigators want to know the depth to water, and to know particularly if the supply is permanent. And if "first water" isn't the stuff, how deep is it to "second water," which is popularly supposed to be "inexhaustible." Right here demonstration could be made that should satisfy prospectors in four counties—Hodge man, Ford—east half, Edwards and the southwest corner of Pawnee. A well as a satisfying experiment would undoubtedly cost the State more if located here, but satisfaction upon these very points is just what the law contemplates, and the State Irrigation Commission should faithfully execute it.

I note the great district court says our State Fire Guard Law is unconstitutional. Too bad! But still, that don't seem to prevent the township fire guards stopping fires just the same. Within ten miles there were four uncontrollable fires this winter that would have been enormously destructive but for these guards. Such facts are doubtless known in every neighborhood. But that decision was given in a case where the Santa Fe railway was kicking against the tax in Edwards county. The county promptly took an appeal.

Filling up unused wells on abandoned land has caused the human hive to buzz some, but still the good work goes on. Some lawsuits are said to be brewing in consequence of certain old wells being filled, but I do not know of them. Can any one imagine a fate more horrifying than falling into one of these wells a hundred feet deep, miles from a public highway, and days and days elapsing before discovery. Instant death from such a fall would be perfect delight compared with what might result. Fill up the wells and tax the owners.

Much sickness from lung and throat complaints has prevailed since January. Henry Tenbrink died on the 13th inst. He was one of the first settlers of the township and a man noted for his industry and integrity. The funeral attracted the largest assembly ever at St. Joseph church. He left the employ of the Hall Safe and Lock Co., Cincinnati, O., in 1885, in consequence of impaired health, and came to Kansas, where he regained it partially, and enjoyed a life free from suffering until his fatal illness, pneumonia.

Mr. John Gave of Bicknell,

England, an iron worker out of a job, has lately come among us, and if he continues to conduct himself as he has conducted himself since arrival he will be made very welcome. His family will arrive next month. His brother Will is an "old settler," having been here two years, and is already safely anchored to a quarter section of Hodgeman county land. B.

D. M. Frost, of Garden City, is in the city to-day.

John Straeter as a vender of the Cow brand of soda, is a success.

Mr. Schmoker reports his child improving. There is a chance for the boy, though he is still weak.

Judge J. M. Burson has moved his second hand store to the building on Bridge street, formerly occupied by Mr. Weagley.

Nobody ever heard of "the endless chain" that drew gold from the treasury until Cleveland and Carlisle discovered it. It was a harmless piece of machinery until "the deficit administration" came into power.

Never judge a man by outside appearances. A shabby coat may enwrap a newspaper publisher, while a man wearing a high-toned plug hat and sporting a gold-headed cane may be a subscriber.—Ex.

According to the esteemed Chicago Inter Ocean "people do not like gold for pocket money," which is not unlike the observation of the fox who regarded the grapes that hung some yards removed.—Providence News.

State creation has been proceeding rapidly in recent years. Four new States—the Dakotas, Montana and Washington—were made in 1889, two—Idaho and Wyoming—in 1890, and one—Utah—in 1896. Probably 1897 will see another State—Oklahoma—added to the list.

General Joe Hooker has been called a deserter and a coward, and Francis Murphy is accused of being a traitor to the cause of temperance. The next thing somebody will be claiming that Mrs. Lease is a downtrodden female slave.—Kansas City Star.

Gold is not worth a premium. Offer any business man $100 in gold as he starts on a journey or $100 in crisp bank bills, and he will take the paper three times out of every four. We repeat, gold is not good "pocket money."—Inter Ocean.

The irrigated crops grown in Colorado last year amounted to more than double the output of the gold and silver mines, and if the farmers of western and central Kansas will improve their opportunity, the value of the irrigated crops of Kansas this year will be more than the value of the gold or silver mines of any state in the Union.

D. L. Moody, the evangelist told a story in Philadelphia the other day about his life before his conversion, when a boy of seventeen. He said that while he was a pretty bad boy in his unregenerate days, deep in the follies and errors of the world, he never broke so far away from his early religious training as to forget to say his prayers every night. "I used to sleep with my brother," he said, "and if either one of us happened to jump into bed without first getting on his knees, the other would swear at him vigorously and kick him out on the floor."

Yes; we do get tired sometimes of the talk about prohibition. We get tired of the impractical intolerance of some people. We get tired of the way in which some people sit around and growl because somebody else doesn't do something, but never do anything themselves. We get tired sometimes of the way officers and juries refuse to do their duty. We get tired of so much talk and so little work, and think maybe prohibition had better be abandoned, but when we begin to figure on going back to the saloon system, we can't stomach it. We never knew a good thing to come out of a saloon. We never knew a man who was better for having a saloon in his neighborhood. We never knew a man to get richer on account of it, except the man who owned the saloon. The only crop we ever knew it produced was misery. When it comes to the pinch, we would as soon vote to open a branch office for hell as to vote to restore the saloon.—Mail and Breese.

The Infidel Pump.

Major H. B. Van Voorhis returned to Dodge City, Saturday, from Topeka and other points in the State, where he has been interesting parties in the purchase and use of his irrigating pump. He made some sales wherever he stopped, and at Topeka he sold to one man 45 pumps. These pumps will be put up at Topeka. The Major has ordered a carload of castings for the pumps from Pittsburg, Pa. To enable the Topeka purchaser to construct the pumps at once, the Zimmermann Hardware Company of this city, sent seventeen castings the entire number on hand here, to the Topeka purchasers. In the meantime, the Zimmermann Hardware Company will await the arrival of the material from Pittsburg before constructing the pumps to supply the orders received for the pumps in this part of the State. This is certainly very gratifying to the inventor of the pump and to those who have the charge of constructing them. Despite the name, the Infidel pump seems to meet a demand for irrigation uses, and the pump commends itself for cheapness, durability and unsurpassing utility. The GLOBE-REPUBLICAN is pleased to record a fact that a home invention will yet solve the practicability of farming by irrigation; perhaps, not on a large scale, but in a manner that will be useful and one that will bear good and satisfactory results.
